Young Residence Scholars visited the interactive Literature Festival for children - 'Kukdooku Lit Fest' at Kiran Nadar Museum of Art, Noida on 8th of December. This festival aimed to bring children closer to the characters they love and weave their own stories. It was an incredible opportunity for kids to connect with their favourite stories and be a part of their phiz-whizzing world. Children explored their creativity through the world of books, and weaved their own magical tale. They were joined by over 40 Indian and international storytellers, authors, and artists, for a truly inimitable experience. The festival had a plethora of exciting events including musical storytelling, theatre, and book-reading sessions. It was truly a fun ride for them.

Boarders' Night

One of the most anxiously awaited occasions in the GGS Residence, "Boarders' Night" was celebrated on 19th of December with great elation and gusto. The cultural show began with the performances by the band from senior and middle school scholars singing melodious English and Hindi songs. Then groups from junior, middle and senior scholars presented dance performances choreographed by the students themselves. The English skit presented by the junior boys was appreciated very much.

Our young Residence Scholars also performed and displayed their skills and hidden talents via various songs and carols to bring in the festive mood. The program concluded by the speeches delivered by Mr Pradeep Paul, Head-Residences and Mr David Brazaeu, School Director. They encouraged the scholars for their laudable performances. Scholars enjoyed a sumptuous dinner in the CDH. At last the much-awaited event dance with the DJ was enjoyed by scholars. It was a fun filled day for the Residence Scholars before leaving for the Winter Break.

A wish tree was set-up at the entrance where children tied their wishes hoping them to come true. Christmas was celebrated with the children staying in the Boarding House for Winter Camp on 25th of December in all its joy and happiness.
